उम्मीद (Umeed) - Counselling & Wellness Centre

A healthy mind and spirit along with a fit body is of prime significance to lead a happy life. The well-being of its stakeholders has always been a priority of Chaudhary Bansi Lal University Bhiwani. However, the Stress full life has necessitated a greater urgency to focus on the emotional needs of the student community, employees as well as every person. With the primary intent to address the emotional requirements and to help resolve the psychological issues therein, the University has established the "UMEED Counselling and Wellness Centre" Helmed by a team of dedicated faculty members and with adequate and timely support from the administration, the Centre has been working towards facilitating personal well-being of the students/teachers/non-teaching staff through the support and guidance of Psychologist.

I hope that the centre would prove to be one of the best student support system for CBLU students and contribute towards the wellbeing of all the students, who are the future nation builders.

Best Wishes.

Prof. Raj Kumar Mittal
Vice Chancellor
CBLU, Bhiwani

Celebration of International Mother Language Week

Swabhasha Week was celebrated from 21st to 28th February 2024 by the Hindi Department of Chaudhary Bansilal University, courtesy the Education Culture Upliftment Trust. Under this, a creative writing competition and signature campaign was conducted in Swabhasha. On 23 February, the signature campaign was conducted in the old building and cement building of the university and on 26 February, the campaign was conducted in the new campus of the university. Creative writing competition was organized on 27th. The theme of which was *Indigenous Technologies for Developed India*. On the occasion of this last day, a lecture series was organized on 28th February. In which Professor Rohini Aggarwal, former President, Maharishi Dayanand University, Rohtak was present as the special speaker. Honorable Vice Chancellor Professor Rajkumar Mittal ji and Head of Hindi Department Professor Deepak Gupta ji, Dr. Asha Poonia, Dr. Monika Miglani and all the professors of Hindi Department were present with dignity. The program started with lighting of the lamp and Saraswati puja. Professor Rajkumar Mittal ji, while highlighting the Indian knowledge tradition in detail, said today's motto in the upliftment of Indian education culture, saying that there is no substitute for mother, mother tongue and motherland, showing the interrelationship between language, culture and civilization, and motivating the students for self-employment. inspired. Hindi Department Chairman Dr. Deepak Gupta ji in simple words benefited the students with the knowledge of his culture and his mother tongue. Professor Rohini Aggarwal, who was the main distinguished speaker of the program, threw light on the background from Vedic culture to the present, how language builds a person's personality and suggests the way to provide employment. Mehta translated it in her mother tongue. He also connected the students with the present era and also laid emphasis on acquiring maximum language knowledge. In the creative writing competition, first place students of Gauri Shankar Singh English Department, second place Monica Hindi Department, third place Lakhan Hindi Department and Deepak Kumar were jointly honored with prizes. Students of the department, Basant, Vikas and Sudha made the atmosphere musical through poetry recitation. The stage was successfully conducted by Dr. Mehak, Assistant Professor of Hindi Department. There was active participation of the students of Hindi department on this occasion and the academic and non-academic staff provided every possible help in making the program successful.

First Sustainability Report

Prof. Raj Kumar Mittal the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of Chaudhary Bansi Lal University , Bhiwani presented the first Sustainability Report of the University to Hon'ble Governor -Chancellor of Haryana Shri Bandaru Dattatreya ji at Raj Bhawan , Haryana Chandigarh. Report is an attempt to map the initiatives which University has taken to align it's teaching -learning activities with 17 SDGs aimed at making world prosperous, liveable , inclusive and peaceful. Prof. Mittal pointed out that report shall help in sensitising the stakeholders especially students and staff to contribute towards the attainments of SDGs. Few initiatives worth to mention include ; harnessing of solar energy in new campus ( around 80 percent of energy needs are met through solar power), bhumi suposhan programme to make soil chemical free in Bhiwani district , water conservation programme, promoting sustainable consumption behaviour in Bhiwani city , promoting entrepreneurship especially among the women through organising fairs of Swadeshi products and workshops, 15 hobby clubs to allow students to pursue activities of their interest and prepare them to ultimately explore the possibility of converting passion into profession , directing research to solve local problems of people . University is working hard to change the mindset of students from job seekers to job providers and pursue self employment and entrepreneurship as their career. Students are being promoted to earn while they learn in the campus. We at CBLU believe that through quality education and holistic development of students SDGs can be better achieved at a faster speed . As our understanding improves through this exercise so will improve the alignment of SDGs with the curriculum of CBLU and the University's contribution in achievement of SDGs.

19th convocation of Adarsh Mahila College, Bhiwani

The 19th convocation of Adarsh Mahila College, Bhiwani, an affiliated college of Chaudhary Bansi Lal University, was held on 3rd January 2024, in which degrees to about 800 UG & PG students were conferred. Along with that, certificates and medals to meritorious students were also conferred. Prof. K.K. Aggarwal, President of South Asian University, Delhi, was the Chief Guest. In his address, Prof. R.K. Mittal, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, of CBLU, Bhiwani, congratulated the graduating students, faculty, and parents. He asked the students to become Swavalambi Yuva by developing their abilities to comprehend the changing environment which provides immense opportunities to the youth to engage productively and start their ventures and self-employment activities. He said this is the future of India. He advised the students to develop managerial skills and risk-taking abilities. Embracing technology is essential for being relevant in the technological-driven disruptive world. Hence, students need to be life-long learners. Second, he advised the students to be rooted with rich Indian cultural heritage and value systems. We all need to develop our character and personality on panchkosa - annamaya, pranmaya, manomaya, vigyanmaya, and anandmaya. Education needs to be moulded on panchkosha principle. He asked young graduating students to value and strengthen the Indian family system and do not be swayed by western culture and values. We must value the experience and presence of elders in the family as is evident during Ramayana by the presence of Jambvat who helped Hanuman ji to realise his abilities. Lastly, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, asked students to put their best to make Bharat Viksit by 2047.

RESURGENT BHARAT ON THE GLOBAL CANVAS

Prof. Raj Kumar Mittal , Hon' ble Vice Chancellor , attended the two days international conference on the theme RESURGENT BHARAT ON THE GLOBAL CANVAS at Dr. Ambedkar International Centre , Delhi from Feburary 25-26, 2024. Speaking in the valedictory ceremony Prof.Mittal thanked ABRSM ,the organisers for giving the opportunity to CBLU ,Bhiwani to be part of this and previously three international conferences organised in Delhi. Speaking on the occassion Prof. Mittal emphasised on the following :

1. Vikshit Bharat means lifting the size of our economy to 35-40 trillion dollar , 10 times the present size of GDP; building employment centric economy; socially and economically inclusive economy ; and environmentally sustainable economy.
2. Two factors presently shaping the education include ; technology and western thoughts and values . He pointed out that Bharat already has missed out earlier three industrial revolutions and hardly can afford the fourth based on 4.0 technologies focusing on AI and automation. Technology is here to stay and shall play crucial role in making Bharat a Vikshit Bharat. Educational institutions have to sensitise the students to embrace these emerging technologies and start skill updating programmes . Western thoughts and values are adversely affecting the thinking and living of our youth including the family values. The 37 crores of our youth in the age group of 15-29 years needs to be nurtured and educated on Panchakosh based education focusing on Annamaya , Prannmaya , Mannomaya , Vigyaanmaya and Anandmaya koshas . Prof Mittal also stressed on making faculty and students aware about local people , resources , knowhow and problems and direct their energy and mindset in addressing the issues and problems local people are facing thus making Bharat Aatmanirbhar. The path to Vikshit Bharat can be through Self employment and entrepreneurship promotion . Educational institutions have to develop eco -system and provide platforms for students to hone their skills and become Swavalambi Yuva to make Bharat a Vikshit Bharat .

Sports Education

Under efficient guidance of Chaudhary Bansi Lal University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Raj Kumar Mittal and Registrar Dr. Reetu Singh formulation of various activities like Sports, Cultural, Education & Research and also setting new records in entrepreneurship. The university is responsible for the holistic development of students so it is responsible to get quality, job-oriented cultural education, 15 different hobby clubs and providing full opportunity to convert passion into profession for making students entrepreneurial.

This is the first University in the state to form hobby clubs- Music & Dance, Culinary Skills, Performing Arts, Sports & Fitness, IT, Literary, Fine & Arts, Photography & Videography, Gardening & Land Scapping, Media, Entrepreneurship, Waste Management, Beauty & Wellness, Fashion & Designing. The new National Education Policy has been passed in 2020 and the visionary of Vice Chancellor Professor Raj Kumar Mittal. In 2019, new national hobby clubs were formed so Education Policy 2020 has already taken a step by providing class one hour on Friday and Saturday at the university. There is a special hobby class and self-interest. Adopt a hobby according to each student' should be mandatory for the Government to do so.
